

Higher Education

Accounting. Home and Garden. Paralegal. Dance. Journalism. Regardless of your area of interest, one of the many higher education institutions in South Snohomish County can help teach you the skills you need to succeed.

Cascadia Community College

18345 Campus Way N.E.
Bothell, WA 98011
Phone: 425-352 8000
www.cascadia.ctc.edu

Cascadia is the newest community college in the state of Washington. It is a public institution offering two-year degrees, certificate programs and a broad range of continuing education courses, professional training, and business specific customized contract programs. Cascadia is located on a 128-acre campus along Beardslee Boulevard in Bothell, just northwest of the intersection of I-405 and SR-522.

Cascadia offers non-credit, professional/technical classes as well as lifelong learning classes in a wide variety of subjects, including art, business, computers, dance and music, health and wellness, home and garden, crafts, professional development, writing, personal growth and industry-specific certificates.

Central Washington University - Edmonds Community College Branch

20000 68TH Ave. W.
Lynnwood, WA 98036
Tel. 425-640-1574
www.cwu.edu/lynnwood

Central Washington University Lynnwood Center has a long-standing educational partnership with Edmonds Community College. Through their shared campus, CWU offers undergraduate programs in Accounting, Business Administration, and Law & Justice. A Master's in Professional Accountancy is offered, as well as certificates in Supply Chain Management and Psychology. Students with AA degrees may apply for admission into one of these programs and pursue a bachelor or masters degree.

City University

Everett Mall Way Suite 101
Everett, WA 98208
Tel. 425-353-0727
www.cityu.edu

City University is a private, nonprofit institution of higher education founded more than two decades ago to serve working adults wanting to pursue educational opportunities without interrupting their careers. The University's has been a respected member of South Snohomish County's academic community since 1996. Evening and weekend classes are ideal for working adults. Day programs are offered for community and technical college transfer students on either a full or part time basis. If classroom instruction is inconvenient, City University offers a Distance Education option.

Bachelor's degrees are available in Accounting, Business Administration, Computer Systems, Mass Media & Journalism, Education, and Applied Behavioral Sciences. A master's degree may be obtained in Business, or an AA in Paralegal Studies or General Studies. Programs are also offered in Project Management, MCSE Certification, Educational Technology, and Certified Financial Planning.

Higher Education

Edmonds Community College

20000 68th Ave. W
Lynnwood, WA 98036
Phone: 425-640-1500
www.edcc.edu

Edmonds Community College (ECC) has an enrollment of over 10,500 students, including hundreds of students from 60 different countries. Students can earn two-year degrees transferable to a four-year university, or pursue professional and technical degrees in one of the diverse career programs, from computer networking or game animation to construction management or early childhood education.

The Business & Technology Center has strong programs that focus on the education and training needs of businesses, both large and small. Weekend College works class schedules into the busy lives of students. It combines Saturday classes, online classes, telecourses and evening classes. In addition, the college child care center and a Saturday Kids College mean the whole family can make Saturday into a college day.

ECC has formed innovative partnerships with other community colleges and universities to provide students with diverse educational opportunities. Together with Central Washington University, the colleges are building a higher education center to make it easier to earn bachelor's degrees right here in this community.

The Northshore Center - Shoreline Community College

17171 Bothell Way N.E. #A220
Lake Forest Park, WA 98155
Phone: 206-306-1112
www.shoreline.ctc.edu/northshore

The Northshore Center is six miles from Shoreline Community College's main campus, located in the Lake Forest Park Community Center. The Northshore Center provides day and evening college credit courses and workforce training programs of interest to the general public, local business and industry. Continuing education workshops in computer operating systems and applications as well as OSHA and WSHA Compliance Safety Training and foreign language classes are also offered. The Northshore Center is a regional leader in high technology certification preparation and advanced information and technology programs.

Puget Sound Center

22002 26TH Ave. S.E., Suite 101
Bothell, WA 98021
Phone: 425-640-1950
www.pugetsoundcenter.org

The Puget Sound Center (PSC) is a private, non-profit, independent training provider established through a unique collaboration between Shoreline and Edmonds Community Colleges. The PSC administrative offices and main training facilities are located in Canyon Park Business Center in Bothell. In addition to the Canyon Park site, the PSC has three training facilities. One is located at the Lake Forest Park Towne Centre, which is shared with the Shoreline Community College Northshore Center. Another is located in the new Workforce Development Center at Edmonds Community College. Classes are also offered in collaboration with Seattle Vocational Institute in downtown Seattle.

PSC provides future-ready training solutions for teaching, learning and technology. Through information technology professional development and workshops, PSC offers training in web design and development, IT training, programming languages, networking and database administration. The Puget Sound Center also offers K-12 teacher technology training, including methods of integrating technology into curriculum for the Mukilteo, Edmonds, Shoreline and Seattle public school districts.

Higher Education

Puget Sound Christian College

7011 226TH Place S.W.
Mountlake Terrace, WA 98043
Phone: 425-775-8686
www.psc.edu

Puget Sound Christian College (PSCC) began as Puget Sound College of the Bible in the West Seattle Christian Church and offered its first classes in the autumn of 1950. Expanding from its original location in a 22-room mansion West Seattle, the college has continued to grow and in 2001 it moved from downtown Edmonds to its current property in Mountlake Terrace.

The College remains committed to the original objectives of its founders, and to being an effective force for the education of leadership for the church of Jesus Christ. It offers a variety of Bible related 4-year degree programs. PSCC also offers the EXCEL program, a fast track condensed program designed for working adults.

University of Phoenix - Mountlake Terrace Campus

6100 219TH St. S.W.
Mountlake Terrace, WA 98043
Phone: 206-268-5800
www.phoenix.edu

The University of Phoenix is a private, for-profit higher education institution whose mission is to provide high quality education to working adult students. At University of Phoenix's Mountlake Terrace campus, busy adults are able to earn their college degree or professional certificate while maintaining their career and personal life. Specifically designed for working professional, classes are offered on campus at convenient times, as well as via the Internet.

University of Phoenix offer bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees, as well as professional certificate programs in several areas including: Business, Administration, Accounting, Management, Technology Management, Information Systems, Education, Counseling and Nursing.

University of Washington – Bothell

18115 Campus Way N.E.
Bothell, WA 98011
Phone: 425-352-5000
www.bothell.washington.edu

The University of Washington at Bothell (UWB) began its campus eleven years ago with 142 students. Today, it offers numerous higher education opportunities to over 1,650 students. The new Media Center has continued providing students from both UWB and Cascadia Community College with access to digital cameras, editing equipment and a host of other media technology. The University Book Store, once housed in a cramped trailer near the wetlands, now features a spacious storefront that offers variety of merchandise and supplies to both University of Washington – Bothell and Cascadia Community College students.

UWB offers both bachelor and master's degrees; Academic programs include business, computing and software systems, education, interdisciplinary arts and sciences, and nursing programs. As of 2001, UWB offers an MBA program. Recent degrees have been launched including Master of Nursing, Master of Policy Studies and an undergraduate degree in Environmental Science.